

REPLICA REMINDER — Tuesday, Sept. 5, marks the fifth anniversary of the date a 20 pound fragment from the Russian Sputnik IV space craft landed on a Manitowoc street and brought this city national and international publicity. Director Rajko Lozar of the Rahr Civic Center holds one of the two replicas of the fragment donated to the city by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. The other is on display at the Manitowoc city police station. A suitably inscribed metal ring was anchored into North Eighth Street near the Civic Center at the touchdown point under the sponsorship of Lodge 516 of the International Association of Machinists.
